The prospect of a pretty home is indeed a cheering sign to any man, and every individual should have his mind set upon owning a residence of his own. We have some splendid properties on our books—houses to suit all tastes and pocket-books. We buy, sell and exchange town and country real estate, and you will find us very good people to do business with.

And those that already have the pretty home, we would like to show them one, five and ten acre lots near city limits where they can keep that cow, those chickens, and grow all their garden truck vegetables and fruit they want for a year. Small payment down, balance at your own terms. Good soil, no stones and water fronts, what better could one wish for.

M. W. A. PROVIDES TENT COTTAGE

Local Camp of this City to Have Rhinelanders Represented at Colorado Sanitarium

Lake Camp 1749, M. W. A. of this city, is to have a tent cottage at the big Modern Woodmen Sanitarium at Colorado Springs, Col.

This sanitarium is established for the treatment of tuberculosis and all members of the Woodmen lodge afflicted with the terrible plague are treated there for little or no cost. Realizing the rapid rate at which the spread of tuberculosis is extending through the country, the Modern Woodmen is the first fraternal organization to take steps toward battling with the disease. The Colorado sanitarium is the result of this action.

Hundreds of lodges of the order, including many in Wisconsin, now have cottages on the grounds and the Rhinelanders Woodmen will soon be thus represented.

There being no general assessment for this month, F. J. Koepke, clerk of the local camp, has issued notices to all the members notifying them of a special assessment of seventy-five cents for October, such amount to be used toward the purchase and maintenance of a tent cottage at the Woodmen Sanitarium. With the four hundred or more members of the lodge in this city it will be an easy matter to raise the necessary fund.

Clerk Koepke says that all those belonging to Lake Camp are heartily in favor of the movement and many have signified their intention of giving more money than the sum levied by the special assessment.

The cottages at the Woodmen Sanitarium are constructed of canvas over a light wooden frame work and are complete in every detail regarding ventilation and sanitary conditions. Each cottage is fitted for the accommodation of one person and contains such necessary articles as a bed, stand, chair, drinking cup, etc. Patients are given the best of medical attention under a staff of skilled physicians and nurses who are experts in the treatment of tuberculosis. Although the sanitarium has been in existence only a short time many afflicted Woodmen have already been benefited there.

JUDGE HITS SALOON KEEPERS

Those Who Keep Places Open Sunday Cannot Be Citizens

Racine, Wis., Oct. 2.—Judge Beldon of the circuit court has been advised by the bureau of immigration and naturalization that petitions for citizenship by saloonmen who keep their saloons open and sell liquor on Sunday in violation of the law of the state wherein they reside, knowing it to be contrary to law, must be denied.

The department holds such applicant has not behaved as a man of good moral character, and one disposed for good order and happiness, as is required by the United States statutes. The government holds that such ruling cannot be affected by a consideration of local public sentiment concerning Sunday closing or the attitude of the municipal officers toward enforcing such laws.

The question involved in all its phases has been passed upon recently by the Illinois supreme court.

This opinion is of great importance to the people of this city and also to Milwaukee for the reason that Judge Beldon recently rendered a decision here depriving two applicants for citizenship papers because they admitted having knowingly kept their saloons open on Sunday in violation of the law.

Judge Beldon is the first judge in the country to make this decision.

Recently the same question came up in Milwaukee, but was not decided there for the reason that the applicants for citizenship withdrew their petitions.

GETS PENSION INCREASE

The pension department has granted John Sargent, one of the civil war veterans living in this city, an increase in pension from $17 to $24 per month. He also received over $50 in back pension.

Mr. Sargent is janitor at the Armory.

GAS PLANT WRECKED BY EXPLOSION MANY IN PERIL—ONLY ONE INJURED

BROKEN PIPE CAUSED ROOM TO FILL WITH ESCAPING GAS—IGNITED BY FIRE IN ENGINE ROOM

Five Men in Room—All Escape But One—Mart Newman the Victim of Painful and Disfiguring Injuries.

MAY REQUIRE WEEKS TO REPAIR PLANT

The entire city was startled yesterday when soon after the whistles had sounded the hour of one, a succession of shocks occurred sufficient to shake houses upon their foundations and to cause crockery and window lights to rattle. In a few minutes both fire companies, followed by crowds of people were rushing to the Oneida Gas Company's plant on the South Side where at a glance the wrecked plant could be seen with the flames feeding on escaping gas.

The story of the disaster was told a New North reporter by an eye witness as follows:

There were five men in the engine room when a rushing noise of escaping gas was noticed. A rush was made into the purifying room where a broken three inch gas pipe was found. The door was quickly closed and hasty efforts made to close valves to keep the gas from escaping. With a 25 lb pressure on, it took only a short time to fill the room with gas and with a fire under the boiler, the gas was almost instantly ignited, causing an explosion which practically wrecked the plant and very seriously injured Mart Newman of Fort Wayne, Ind., who with four others were in the room. As soon as possible the men made their exit by the nearest window, carrying the injured man, who besides a broken leg, was cut in the back and had his face badly mutilated. He was at once taken to St. Mary's hospital where his injuries were attended to.

Mr. Newman and Mr. Baker of Fort Wayne, Ind., had only been in the city a short time, coming here for the purpose of installing new gas valves. Most of Mr. Newman's injuries were caused by falling brick and falling debris—that portion of the wrecked roof being torn almost to splinters. It was miraculous that all the occupants were not instantly killed, instead of escaping with singed hair and bruises.

As is often the case in occurrences of such a nature, strange things happened. A four pane window in the second floor was wrenched from its fastenings and blown a distance of ten feet, without causing so much as a cracked glass, which is more than most of the inhabitants of the South Side can brag, as dozens of window lights were cracked and broken in houses of that vicinity. In fact the South Siders were not slow in getting out of their houses after the explosion. Their haste would do them credit in an earthquake country. Excitement was at a high pitch for the remainder of the afternoon and fear of other explosions kept people at a safe distance from the remaining tanks.

Geo. Hycks, who is employed at the plant has reason to feel that his time had not come. He was standing outside, close to the partly submerged tanks when the explosion occurred, and when he recovered from the daze which the shock caused, he found himself in the midst of bricks and debris but unharmed. He cannot yet understand how it was that he was not a victim of flying brick. The men working on the top of the new storage tank were likewise unharmed.

At the time we go to press the loss to the plant has not been made public but we are informed that it may be a week or two before repairs can be made so the company can resume operation.

LATER—The attending physician reports that Mr. Newman's injuries will not be fatal. A portion of his nose will require amputation, but he will not lose an eye as was first thought. In all probability he will not be laid up more than five or six weeks, but for the remainder of his life will bear marked facial scars.

THE LOAFER NUISANCE

One Rhinelanders merchant who has been bothered by the loafer, to such an extent that he can no longer peacefully endure the nuisance, gives vent to his injured feelings as follows:

Mr. Merchant pays his rent, expecting to receive a chance to display his goods in his show windows. Then, Mr. Loafer comes along and sits down on the steps or along the ledge in front of the store, spilling tobacco juice all over the sidewalk. Ladies would like to get in to buy something, but dislike wading through dirty filthy tobacco spit. Supposing Mr. Merchant tells Mr. Loafer not to spit tobacco juice or not to sit in the doorway, or spilling his window display by hilling it from view; then Mr. Loafer gets mad and wont trade with him. How about the police? Are they not supposed to enforce an ordinance after it has been passed by the city council. By a Citizen of Rhineland.

THEY CAUGHT HIM NAPPING

When Hans Anderson completed his duties at the store, last Saturday night, he felt so fatigued that he immediately went to his home and becoming comfortably seated in his easy chair was soon in the land of nod. But his slumbers were not for long, for he was suddenly awakened by the sound of laughter and merry voices. Although he had forgotten that it was his birthday, his friends had not, and about eight of them together with their families had gathered at his home to celebrate the event. The evening was pleasantly but all too swiftly spent at cards and other amusements, and there was plenty of good things to eat.

Before departing the invaders presented Mr. Anderson with a beautiful set of cut glass. Mr. Anderson said that the party was a complete surprise and it was one time he was caught napping.

HOLD FAMILY REUNION

There was a reunion of the Larson family at Lena, Oconto county, Sunday, when Mrs. Sam Johnson, Mrs. Arvid Mole, Miss Louise, Carl and Peter Larson of this city spent the day with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Larson. The home coming of the children was a happy surprise to the parents who had made no plans for the event. Mr. and Mrs. Larson formerly resided in Rhineland and are now numbered among the prominent farmers of Oconto county.

GREATLY PLEASED WITH FAR WEST

Paul Browne Tells Interesting Things of Rapid Advancement of Irrigated Country

Paul Browne returned last Friday morning from his trip to Spokane and Seattle, Wash.

Near Spokane, Mr. Browne owns a fruit orchard of twenty-two acres and his son, G. E. Brown, has an orchard that ranks among the largest and finest in the state, containing over three hundred acres. The principal crop is apples.

Gerry now has one thousand apple trees, planted two years ago, that are thriving and will bear fruit in two years. He recently set out twenty two thousand young trees and next spring will plant about nine thousand more. From the sale of other fruits and vegetables this year, Gerry has realized splendid returns.

Mr. Browne says that the apple crop in the West this year was not as large as that of former seasons. This is due to the fact that the growers allowed their trees to over bear, an unwise practice.

Speaking of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, Mr. Browne says the exhibits from Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands could not be excelled and were to him the most interesting features on the grounds. The fair has attracted immense crowds and has been most effective in advertising the many resources of the Pacific Northwest.

STEVENS COMPANY MAY LEAVE

Sells Its Winter Hemlock Cut to Rhinelanders Paper Company.

The Stevens Lumber Company has sold to the Rhinelanders Paper Company its entire lot of hemlock timber which will be cut during the winter at the Stevens camp near Parish. There is from 5,000 to 6,000 feet of this timber and as soon as cut it will be loaded on cars and shipped to the paper company's yard in this city. The Stevens Company will also cut about 1,000,000 feet of hemlock and will operate three camps.

The sale of the hemlock means that the Stevens Lumber Company will have no logs to saw at its mill in this city next year and unless other arrangements are made the plant will remain idle.

There is a strong rumor afloat that the company intends to dispose of all its interests in Rhineland and leave in the West. At various times representatives of the company have journeyed to that country and it is known that they have made heavy timber purchases there.

Chas. Stevens, while refusing to make any statement regarding the intentions of the concern, hinted that a move to the West is not improbable.

ENGINE JUMPS TRACK

Some excitement was created in the local Northwestern railroad yards Monday afternoon, when switch engine 100 jumped the track at point near the car scales. The engine was in a position so that it looked as though it might topple over any minute. The wrecking crew from Antio were called, arriving here about 5:30 p. m. During the night the engine was replaced upon the rails and commenced work early Tuesday morning. The damage to the engine was slight.

THE COREYS ARE COMING

William E. Corey, the steel magnate, and his wife, will arrive Saturday at their hunting lodge near Watersmeet and will remain several weeks there on an outing.

The Coreys visit this lodge annually. Rhinelanders people who have seen the place claim it one of the most elaborate summer homes in northern Wisconsin.

AT MONICO IN 1923

John Van Nortwick, millionaire paper and pulp manufacturer, died last Thursday at Appleton. His remains were taken to his old home at Ravenna, Ill., for burial.

Mr. Van Nortwick built the first sulphite mill in the west at Monico in 1888.

Among the early residents of this section he was very well known and had several acquaintances in Rhineland. His estate is estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

Now is the time for the citizens of Rhineclander to get busy. The committee on Good Roads is to be in the city Saturday and it is up to progressive people to interest that committee sufficiently so that they can see the needs of this country. Surely there is no better field for activity nor—no larger one. But it will take enthusiasm on the part of this city's inhabitants in order to entice outsiders. Now is the chance for you who do so much talking to make good by "doing".

Paul Browne, who years ago predicted that the cut-over lands of northern Wisconsin would become valuable, now predicts that next spring will witness a rush of new settlers to this section. Mr. Browne bases his prediction on the fact that every where the people are talking of northern Wisconsin and its many resources and advantages. Much money is being expended in advertising this country and every inducement is being offered the home seeker to locate here. Productive lands can be bought cheaply and on easy terms, and within the course of a few years, with a little hustling, these lands can be converted into profitable farms. It is hoped that Mr. Browne's prediction will be realized, as what Oneida and other adjoining counties need is more live active settlers.

It was interesting to hear the remarks made on the streets after the explosion at the Gas Plant, Wednesday afternoon. One woman was heard to say "Well I was just scared most to pieces for I tin hearing about that comet with a tail and when that awful noise came and the house began to shake and the dishes rattle and folks was runnin by I just tho't that air tail had struck right here."

WASHINGTON LETTER

Here is a story that is told for the first time on Senator A. S. Clay of Georgia, illustrative of his idea of senatorial and professional ethics and which does full justice to the reputation for strict integrity and fidelity to public trust, which the Senator from Georgia has always enjoyed. Mr. Clay is a lawyer and a good one. He is not a rich man, but enjoys fair returns from his professional work before he entered public life. Since he came to the Senate he has given his time exclusively to the public service. But Senator Clay has a son who was prepared for the bar and in whose professional future the Senator from Georgia takes great pride. The young man had completed his preparation for his profession and had reached that stage in the evolution of a lawyer where he was "waiting for clients." One day Senator Clay received a letter from his son in Georgia stating that he had been offered $5,000 a year to go to Atlanta in the office of the general counsel of one of the big railroads. The young man was fairly radiant with enthusiasm over the offer and Senator Clay felt somewhat "puffed up" with paternal pride to learn that his son had an opportunity to enter into the practice of law under such apparently favorable auspices. But why should a corporation want to pay such a salary to a young man just entering the practice of law, of whose professional ability the corporation could not possibly have had any knowledge? The more Senator Clay revolved this matter in his mind the more remarkable it seemed. Then something occurred to him. He recalled that he was a United States Senator from the state of Georgia and that the railroad rate bill was pending in the Senate at that very moment. Then Mr. Clay gave his head a toss and started to proceed to write to his son in effect, if not in words, as follows:

"I am glad you have had the offer and I have no desire to stand in the way of your advancement in your profession. But the day that you enter the employ of the ——— railroad as attorney I will resign the United States Senate."

Young Clay declined the offer and is plodding away in the practice of his profession in a little town in Georgia.

The Store That Sets the Pace. :: Originators of Low Prices.

The next Congress is certain to investigate the practice that has grown up in the Government Departments of employing publicity agents. Senators and Representatives who have been dropping into Washington recently have expressed themselves in disapproval of the practice and intimated that it is illegal and will be prohibited. A few years ago while the Agricultural Appropriation Bill was under consideration the question of the employment of publicity agents by the Forestry Bureau was discussed and, by many Senators, condemned. Finally an amendment to the Agriculture Appropriation Bill was offered and adopted quite general in its application to all the departments, forbidding the employment and pay out of any appropriation made by Congress of any person to prepare press matter for the newspapers. For a time it looked as if the day of the Government publicity agent had passed. But a short time the department found a way of getting around the inhibition and under various names, such as special agent, or special employee, they continued the services of men whose sole business it is to prepare press matter to be furnished to the newspaper correspondents in Washington and to be sent out from the Departments direct to newspapers throughout the country. The institution of publicity agents has been a benefit to the newspaper correspondents in Washington and has been a convenience to many newspapers, judging from the free use that has been made of the press matter turned out from the Department. The objection to the output is that it is always sterilized and contains nothing that would raise a question as to the infallibility of the chief of the Department under whose direction the publicity agent works. It is contended by some Senators and Representatives that the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy was precipitated in the absence of both men from Washington by superserviceable publicity agents, each working for the glorification of his chief and that before it could be arrested it had been carried to a point that was embarrassing to both men. It has been asserted by representatives who have investigated the matter that the annual expense to the Government for publicity agents amounts to nearly $100,000. The idea originated with the Geological Survey and has spread to the other departments. There are a number of publicity agents in the Agricultural Department, Forestry Bureau, Reclamation Service, Geological Survey and the Census Office. Recently the State Department and the Postoffice Department has taken on a publicity auxiliary. Postmaster General Hitchcock has appointed two press agents.

Louis Boon, a leading merchant of Norway, Mich., writes: "Three bottles of Foley's Honey and Tar absolutely cured my boy of a severe cough, and a neighbor's boy, who was so ill with a cold that the doctors gave him up, was cured by taking Foley's Honey and Tar." Nothing else is as safe and certain in results. J. J. Reardon.

FOR CURE OF BABIES

New Department To Be Established At State University

The Wisconsin state board of health and vital statistics is to have the direction of a Pasteur Institute to be established at the University of Wisconsin in conjunction with the State Hygienic Laboratory at the College of Agriculture. Dr. M. P. Ravenel, head of the laboratory, will have charge of the work, and treatment will be given persons threatened with hydrophobia.

Hitherto any Wisconsin citizen in danger of the disease has had to go to Chicago or to Minneapolis for treatment, since only there (and in North Carolina) are there established such institutes. Now this state will be able, through the work at the university, to care for its own patients. The importance of the institute is recognized when it is understood that the treatment is practically infallible, statistics having been collected which prove that, in cases where persons bitten by mad dogs or other animals having the disease have applied the Pasteur treatment promptly, cure was certain.

The laboratory will be opened for the new work in a few weeks, and treatment will be free to indigent persons, though a small sum will be charged those who are able to pay, in order to make the institute as nearly as possible self-supporting.

The amendment to the vital statistics law, which was enacted in the last session of the state legislature, has gone into effect. The amendment requires that the local registrar make a report to the registrar of deeds, of all births, deaths, marriages and accidents, where the papers are to be kept and filed and indexed. Convenience in reference is the object of the new provision. Under the old law if persons desired to ascertain data relative to births, deaths, marriages and accidents, communication with the state registrar was necessary. Under the amended law this information can be secured from the register of deeds. The new law is substantially the same as the law which was in force previous to October 1907. The law, which has been in force the last two years, was unsatisfactory in general and many protests were made against it.

Gossard

an expert corsetiere, trained in the Gossard "New School" of corset design, will be in attendance to show the superior features of Gossard front-laced corsets.

We extend a cordial invitation to every woman in this vicinity who is interested in the corset styles for Fall, to meet and discuss the corset question with her. If in the past, you have had any doubts as to the corset which would do the most for your figure, a fitting with one of the Gossard models will put them to rest.

If you have never worn a Gossard you have yet to learn what the perfect corset union of beauty and hygiene means to the wearer.

There is a model for YOU. Exactly right for YOU. Be fitted to it and you will be delighted with the results. Gossard Corsets give the supple figure and the long, lithe lines demanded by the season's fashions. They support instead of depressing the abdominal organs, that is why physicians recommend them. They impart the classic, sculptured back. Anyone who knows the Gossard Corset can tell the Gossard wearer by the back, at a glance.

The front-lacing is convenient and sensible. You can stand before your mirror and adjust your corset while you are putting it on.

This season's Gossard models are the product of the "New School" of corset design, which means that every seam, gore and bone is adjusted with that precision which is necessary in adjusting the balance wheel of a fine watch.

Gossard Corsets are made of the finest materials. Every detail is as nearly perfect as human ingenuity will permit. The materials are selected with great care for their tensile strength and the Gossard Corset will outwear two or three ordinary corsets.

All Gossard Corsets are boned with "Electrobone" the basis of which is the highest quality high-carbon, non-breakable, clock-spring steel, perfectly flat and resilient; ~~TAKE NOTE~~ guaranteed rustproof, and the best boning material used in corsets at any price.

Although MRS. E. B. DILTZ

will be here all next week, we advise you to come Monday if you can.

"JUST A WOMAN'S WAY"

A play should entertain and amuse. We all know that. At the same time there should be depth and strength to it. It should instruct a- long some certain line. If it lacks this element the players cannot be- come sufficiently interested in it to do good work—their best work. "Just A Woman's Way" which will be played at Grand Opera House soon, is from the pen of Sidney W. Pascoe and he has displayed all of the a- bovegood qualities in this story and dramatization including a splendid moral.

BETZVILLE TALES

Aunt Rhinocolura Betz and the Home Run

By Ellis Parker Butler
Author of "Pigs is Pigs" Etc.
ILLUSTRATED BY PETER NEWELL

This summer Betzville society, fol- lowing the lead of Aunt Rhinocolura Betz, has been taking a great interest in baseball, and all our social leaders are seen in the grandstand of the grounds back of Pimp's sawmill ev- ery Saturday afternoon. Aunt Rhin-ocolura first took notice of baseball be- cause her nephew, Ony Betz, became right fielder in the Betzville Rippers; but as the contest between the Betz-ville Rippers and the Ringtown Rip- pers became more and more close ev- eryone grew excited. The season ended with a tie between the two nines and a final game was arranged for last Saturday to play off the tie.

We may say, without exaggeration, that in spite of her peg leg, Aunt Rhinocolura is one of the most grace-ful ladies of her size in Betzville and home run. Betzville won by three runs!

The Ringtown fielders, with the set- ting sun full in their eyes, waited in vain for the ball to come down, but it did not come down. The captains of the two nines shook hands, the crowd dispersed, and still the ball did not come down. The captain of the Ring- town Rippers asked politely to be per- mitted to examine the cork leg, feel- ing that a new era of baseball had been entered upon—an era of cork bats, since an indifferent batter like Ony Betz could make such a hit with a cork leg—but already the blushing Aunt Rhinocolura had put on her leg and had left the field, congratulated by everyone.

That night a dinner was given in honor of the event by Miss Rosanna when she hobbled up the field to take her seat in the grandstand everyone cheered and her nephew, Ony Betz, offered her a glass of oatmeal water out of the official pailful, an honor shown to but few.

The Opposing Pitcher Had Already Drawn Back His Hand for the Final Delivery, When Uncle Ashdod Clute Seized the Cork Leg and Thrust It Into Ony's Hands.

As the game went on it became evi- dent that this was to be a slugging match. Both pitchers grew unsteady at the fifth inning and the batters had things all their own way, and at the end of the eighth inning seven of the eight bats that had been provided had been cracked and rendered useless. The second half of the ninth inning opened with the Ringtown Rippers one run ahead. Two Betzville men got bases on balls and then Sim Pil- ger broke the last bat, making a base hit.

When Ony Betz stepped to the plate he gazed around in dismay. Ring- town was one run ahead, but Betzville had three men on bases and two out. One blow of Ony's bat would finish the game—but he had no bat. Some one suggested a fence picket, but Ony hesitated. In his strong hands a fence picket would have bent and broke like straw. Defeat stared Betzville in the face.

At that moment Aunt Rhinocolura Betz stood up in the grandstand and shouted to Ony those thrilling words which will go down in Betzville an- nals forever and ever.

"Hold on, Ony," she cried. "Wait 'til I fetch you my leg!"

All Betzville burst into cheers and all Ringtown groaned. In wild excite- ment the ladies of Betzville's best so- cial circles crowded close around Aunt Rhinocolura while she removed her leg, thus forming an impervious wall that shut out prying eyes. But suddenly a wall burst from Aunt Rhinocolura! O fatal error! In her en- thusiasm she had forgotten that she no longer wore the old peg leg on festal occasions, but the new hollow cork leg! But it was now too late to hesitate. Already the umpire had called out, "Play ball." Already two balls had been pitched past Ony and two strikes counted against him while he stood batless. The opposing pitcher had already drawn back his hand for his final delivery, when Uncle Ashdod Clute seized the cork leg and thrust it into Ony's hands. Ony drew back, the pitcher threw the ball, Ony swung the cork leg, and with a terrific im- pact it struck the ball.

Instantly all was excitement. The three men on bases came running home and amidst cheers Ony made a place of honor, but in the midst of the speech made by Uncle Ashdod Clute she grew faint and had to be carried into an adjoining chamber. Luckily Doctor Emanuel Troop was present and he and the captain of the Ring- town Rippers, who was a surgeon, at- tended the case immediately. As soon as Aunt Rhinocolura could speak she said she was suffering from a heavy sensation in her cork leg and Doctor Troop advised a temporary ampu- tation. This was carried out and Aunt Rhinocolura immediately felt easier, but Doctor Troop shook the leg. It was at once apparent to his experi- enced ear that some foreign substance had become lodged in the cork leg and he shook it in the air, seeking to dislodge the foreign substance. As he did so the baseball popped out. It made an arc in the air, the captain of the Ringtown Rippers sprang under it and caught it as it fell, and the um- pire of the baseball game, who was peering in at the door, gave judgment that Ony Betz had been caught out and that the three base runners were therefore also out, and that Ringtown won by one run!

As soon as Aunt Rhinocolura heard these words she fainted. When she recovered she ordered the cork leg de- stroyed and sent home for her peg leg. Any less staunch woman would doubtless have spent the rest of her life in mourning, but not so Aunt Rhinocolura. As soon as her peg leg ar- rived she strapped it on and joined the festive throng again, not to spend the evening in careless joy, however. On the contrary she mingled with the councilmen and mayor of Betzville and so well did she distribute smiles and suggestions that at the very next meeting of the council a law was passed forbidding the wearing of cork legs inside any baseball enclosure in the village limits of Betzville and com- pelling all one-legged citizens to at- tend every ball game wearing a peg leg shaped like a baseball bat, said peg leg to comply with the rules of the National Baseball association as to ball bats.

M. J. SLATTERY

I am now showing the fall season's wools of high grade, and place before my customers a remarkable and beautiful assortment of exclusive patterns which will meet the approval of those who desire style and will do much to maintain the popularity of the wearer, as a Tailor Made Suit gives confidence to the conservative business man. Step in and leave your order for the best $20.00 suit on earth. These suits are not Chicago tailored to the trade garments that will turn in-side-out in a few weeks wear. I pounce and cut the goods and try them on so you can see what you are getting and guarantee for one year.

You can get your suit six or eight days after leaving your order. All wool guaranteed for $20. $22, $25 up

And Overcoats at the same price.

They Didn't Have to Change.
During the years in which our pure food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.
The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food.
It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that everyone needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.
The Quaker Oats Company meets all demands in the way it packs Quaker Oats; regular size packages and the large size family package; the latter both with and without china.

HICK'S WEATHER FORECAST

Many Storms Promised For The Remainder of This Month

Rev. Ira Hicks, the weather prognosticator, promises the following weather for the remainder of October:

A reactionary storm period is central on the 9th and 10th. The temperature will rise and the barometer will fall and increased cloudiness may result in light rains, with change to cooler returning about the 10th to 12th.

A regular storm period is central on the 14th, covering the 12th to 17th.

By the 13th and 14th the temperature will be high and the barometer will be low and falling in western sections, and from Wednesday the 13th to Sunday the 17th, heavy autumnal storms, with lightning and thunder on and touching 12th, will pass from west to east across the country.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 19th, 20th, and 21st.

A regular storm period is central on the 26th, extending from the 24th to the 29th. Look for falling barometrical storms on and next to the 26 and 27th. These conditions will begin to show in western parts as early as the 24th and 25th, but as they advance eastward, very general and positive storms will touch many localities from Tuesday the 26th to Friday the 29th.

FROM NEARBY TOWNS

Ashtland—Daniel E. Barker of Bayfield received a sentence of fourteen years in the state prison at the hands of Judge Parish last Thursday. On July 30, Barker shot and killed Henry Boutin at Bayfield, Barker having been jealous of Boutin. The two men were neighbors and friends for years. Barker pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree.

Marinette—It is reported that the Hydro Electric Company, which is developing 7000 horse power at High Falls and has 4000 more undeveloped at Johnson's Falls, is preparing to transmit power to Milwaukee for use by factories there. Already poles and wires are about to be stretched between High Falls and Green Bay.

Waupaca—Ed. Lundeen, an old resident near Waupaca, was drowned while fishing in Patridge Lake. His boat containing a can of minnows and few fish was found by a searching party, but two days elapsed before his body was recovered. His high rubber boots and cartridge belt weighted him down so as to make swimming an impossibility. Lundeen spent much time on the lakes and served as a guide for fishing parties.

Clintonville—This city has had two more mad dog scares in the last week. A dog owned by Will Koeller of the town of Larabee suddenly turned on Mr. Koeller and lit him on the leg. He went to the Pasture Institute for treatment. A pug dog, a pet in the E. M. Jones household, was noticed to show symptoms of rabies and was immediately shot before it could attack anyone. Clintonville people are alarmed over the dog situation.

Eagle River—As the result of becoming frightened at a skunk, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Johnson of Pioneer Lake, is dead. The little girl in company with several other children was returning from a neighbor's house when a skunk crossed the road. All the children started to run but the Johnson child was so excited that it was necessary to carry her home. She died three days later from inflammation of the brain.

Merrill—Geo. W. Baker of the Pleasant Hill farm expects a representative of the Chippewa Falls beet sugar factory here before long when the campaign to secure pledges from farmers to plant 4,000 acres to sugar beets will be started. If the required number of acres can be pledged Merrill will have a beet sugar factory.

Tomahawk—The Old Settler's picnic held at Bradley park was a most successful affair and the attendance numbered about two hundred fifty people. Rev. Father Scheyer of St. Mary's church delivered the principal address. The time was passed with stories and songs and all present thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. It was decided to hold the next annual picnic on the first day of Sept.

Ladysmith—The farmers of Rusk county have organized what they call "The Farmers Exchange." The object of the new organization is to work for the agricultural development of the county and extensively advertise its many resources thus encouraging home seekers to locate here. A room has also been secured in which farmers can place their produce for sale and the town people can come there and make their purchases.

Medford—The news that the two big leather companies, the Central and U. S., have formed a combine to be known as the Central Leather Company, is received with much interest among Medford people. It is believed that the new concern will again put in operation the big tannery here.

Stevens Point—Male members of the St. Peter's Polish Catholic congregation by a vote of 149 to 2, asked the resignation of the Rev. L. J. Pescinski. This action was suggested by Father Pescinski, who desired the sentiment of the parish, following a stormy meeting two weeks ago. Financial matters are the cause of the trouble.

Crandon—M. S. Barker of this city will engage in the growing of ginseng on an extensive scale. He is now setting out 15,000 plants on his land on Lake Avenue. The plants will no doubt thrive and Mr. Barker expects to realize good dividends from the venture. Another Crandon man, Taylor Tyra, has a ginseng plantation four years old.

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked.

Help the kidneys with their work. The back will ache no more. Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Rhinelander.

Mrs. A. Gruebel, of 828 Arbutus St., Rhinelander, Wis., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I have used them with the best of results. I had an attack of kidney trouble and was in misery most of the time. When I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Reardon's drug store and had taken them but a short time when the pain in my back entirely disappeared and my condition was improved in every way."

TO PROTECT THE YOUTH

Mayor Julius Prenzlau, of Clintonville, who was at one time, a resident of this city, has an article in last week's issue of the Clintonville Tribune in which he urges that city to establish club and reading rooms where the young men may spend their evenings and other leisure time.

The mayor's article contains such statements as the following:

"Boys especially are looking for amusement of some sort, they would not be good boys if they did not. What can we do for the youth, we are sure the saloon men don't want them loafing around their places of business, furthermore we don't want them there."

"Lend us a helping hand for upon the youth depends the future of our country and the welfare of this nation."

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

Wm. D. Murray, the young man arrested at Minocqua last week for failure to pay a two weeks board bill at the Hotel Fuller, was released from custody upon his agreement to settle the costs of the case.

Murray, it can be readily seen is not a crook, but represented an unreliable firm which failed to respond financially and left him stranded. Landlord Kelly, of the Fuller, took pity on the unfortunate fellow and donated the bill.

Friends came to Murray's rescue and he departed from Rhinelander Saturday.

KNEW DR. COOK

Rev. W. J. Turner knew Dr. Cook as a boy in Callicoon, N. Y. Mr. Turner taught several terms of school in Daucaseus, Pa., a village on the opposite side of the Delaware river. At a country spelling match in '78 Cook made his boast that he would spell every school down and go home with the prettiest girl and in both he made good. Cook's reputation was that of a fellow who succeeded in everything he undertook, was a great favorite with young and old, but always determined to have his own will. Mr. Turner is older than Cook and knew him only as a favorite fellow among the young folks of that portion of the historic old Delaware valley.—Merrill Herald.

Well Known Hotel Keeper Uses and Recommends Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

"I take pleasure in saying that I have kept Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in my family medicine chest for about fifteen years, and have always had satisfactory results from its use. I have administered it to a great many traveling men who were suffering from troubles for which it is recommended, and have never failed to relieve them," says J. C. Jenkins, of Glasgow Ky. This remedy is for sale by F. L. Hinman & Co.

A LIBERAL OFFER

The B. M. Hyde Drug Co. Guarantee a Relief from Dyspepsia. If the Remedy Fails It Costs Nothing.

To unquestionably prove to the people that indigestion and dyspepsia can be permanently relieved and that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will bring about this result, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give satisfaction to any one using it.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the high degree of scientific skill used in devising their formula as well as to the care exercised in their manufacture, whereby the well known properties of Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with Carminatives and other agents.

Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin are constantly employed and recognized by the entire medical profession as invaluable in the treatment of indigestion and dyspepsia.

The Pepsin used in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is prepared by a process which develops its greatest efficiency. Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid, and without it the digestion and assimilation of food are impossible.

The carminatives possess properties which aid in relieving the disturbances and pain caused by undigested food. This perfect combination of these ingredients makes a remedy invaluable for the complete relief of indigestion and dyspepsia.

We are so certain of this that we urge you to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Rhinelander only at our store.—The Rexall Store. The J. J. Reardon Drug Co., Rhinelander, Wis.
